The Atlantic Telegraph Expedition. Our special correspondent writes from Valentia. At last the envetery of the breakdown of the cablo is known in all its dolails. The master of the Hook, which returned here this evening, having left the great ship last night, bring, full narriculass both of the extraordinary nature of the acrident, and the still more curious manner in which it was discovered, its place ascertained, the cable bauled in. and the piece cut out. When shout 80 miles of land, with dead calm weather, the ship ! going six knots, and the cable, we are 'old, running out as softly in a "allk ropes" the nanol tes signals were being sent through, when unddanly both those to and from the shore gave most serous indication of faulty losalation. The atmost abrem was felt on this discovery. The gomesions of the instruments were earnfully re-examined and the most rigid exactness observed in the final taits All gave the same result, and, what was a still more certain and ominous proof, the return currents from Valentia showed an equal loss. Notice was instantly given to Mr. Carming and Captain Anderson, and the speed of the Great Easters. which was then in 300 fathoms, was reduced to almost a standatill. It must be remembered that all these signals were sont and received through the whole length of 2.300 mantical miles, or about 2.700 statute miles, of wire. Valentia was in stantle communicated with, and the whole electrical staff under Mr. De Santy set to work to aspertain by resistance tests whether the fault was in the shin or in the 50 miles that had been paid out. Trials of so delicate a nature and of such vital importance to the success of the undertaking were, him. A batch, like a rat trap, was up a fat body of course, conducted with the most vigilant one slid down a way of rollers, and plumped into the filly of the Detached House in the tion, and the calculations hassed upon their data and second followed—plurity. But by some in the Control of th the cable was at once cut on heard the Great struggling to escane, while two Germans tried to are suitable for either Two Sots of Offices or for Exsters and the length under water tesed by Mr. drown them by holding them down with leng a Dwelling and Offices.

"You, Heinrich," they cried, "why do The Two Floors will be let tegether or sepa-Lealized "the spat where the fault existed-11 miles from the stern of the ship, and within a quiarter of a mile from where it notually was .. In stantly preparation were made for getting the Great E stern round, and employing the windingin apparatus fixed forward specially to be used in case of such mishaps. It was honed, of course. that its car would never be required, and very many believed that whether required or not it would never accomplish what it was intended to achieve. The result proved the follow of both hopes and fears. The severed portion of the cable was passed into this machine, and, the Gesat Eastern atnoming back over the rope's craras, the work of reeling in at once began. The strain on the dynanometer of the machine never exceeded IS owt. which was nothing to a cable guaranteed not to break under seven tons, and equal, from its anec'ficeravity, to supporting 11 mil-and its weight n water, or through a droper sea than soundince have ever vet found in the world. As we have said, within a quarter of a mile of the spot indicated by Mr. Saunders, the fault was found; and nothing can more strong y indicate the endless. nerila with which successful anhmarine telegranhy is beset than the trivial and almost unavoldable accident which had caused it. As the lengths of wire of 100 or 150 miles were monufactured at Merara: Glass and Elliott's they were taken down in barger and ociled away in the tanks on board the Great Eastern: Fach as it arrived. was of course spliced up to that which had prepeded it, and this was often done in the tanks themselves. The operation of solicing not only means joining the conductor, but also joining the outsile wires, the junction of the latter being made at different lengths—the bits of wire out out being thrown away. It seems, however, thut. one of these a toma of wire about two nches long. and sa thick as a stout derning needle, feel on the coil unnoticed-ns. indeed, who would notice its or for a moment think of the consequences which ta disregarded presence in such a apot might surely occasion? The weight of the layers of cable faid above this fragment na insignificant na a shaving in a carnenter's shop pressed it firmly into the tarred hemp which forms the outside covering of the cable. To this it adhered. While in the tank it did no harm, but when this portion came to be paid out, the small diameter of the eight leading wheels which give nocess to the paying out machine, and the weight of the inckey pulleys over these which keep the rope in its riace; bent the stout iron wire no charply that it parced between the bomp, pierond the gutta eroba through at least two or three of its faur folds, and there remained. In this state it was by the U. S. Vice Consult found, and instantly secognised as a piece of wire from a splice joint. A short length of cable was ments, and is well provided with Bathrooms, Out at once out out, a new aplica made, vigilantly | Houses, &c. tested, and gradually sunk. When on the bottom it was again re-tested for some hours, and the signale were shown to be absolutely perfect. During all this time the Greet Eastern remained quietly hove to. The son was calm and even the throbbing swell of the Atlantic had died away into the mere | FIRE Promises pitcate in the Queen's Road undulation of a wave. The whole accident enused in delay of nearly 24 hours, during which the drift of the vessel was almost nothing. Here it is gensraily regarded as a most gratifying fact, and one auguring well for the success of the attempt, that not only can a fault be discovered at once, but i place indicated, the cable hauled in again, and the piece repaired or cut out. This evening signals were received from the Great Eastern which report all well. She was then more than 200 knots from land gaing into 1,000 fathoms of water. The cable was paying out at the vate of nearly keven knots an lune, and the signals to the shore both for paying out and measures were as clear as if only sent from two miles' distance. The atrain on the dypanemeter in sinking the rope was less than. ewt., owing to the high specificgravity of thecable; or, in other words, the bulk of its tarred bemp has sufficient hinvancy to balance and almost keep up the weight of its copper conductor and outside iron wires. Before 12 hours more are not the Great Eastern will have run into 1,500 athoms, when if any mi-hap occurs she will have to bring back her own intelligence, for to signals under such aircometances can reach her. From this time forth, therefore the public must depend on the messages forwarded from the ve sel itself, and when these messages cease, will be at liberty to conjecture with as much wildness as to the cause ar all here did when the atom of wire discovered on Monday put an end to communication with Valentia. The compression of the water and unvarving temperators of the Atlantic are already improving the miles that have been sunk, and, all should happily so well, the wire will continue the convenience of huding and shipping goods, to imprive to the last fathum. The Caroline leaves here to-morrow. It would be impossible to overpraise the courage and self-devotion of her efficers and crew, who on that stormy night when the Great Eastern was almost towing ber under water, and when the cutting of the tow-rope would have at once relieved her deliberately re solved to hold on to the last, and risk anything rather than delay the expedition. It is not often that such thorough "pluck" is shown on board a versel when the men on deak at the wheel are up to heir waists in water. When it occurs, it is can be ladered and discharged. merely justice that it should be recorded, and, as for as endurance and determined courage are con-
